Half Term Special... you don't have to be a teacher!

Why do airlines inflate their fares for half term weeks? To help out we will give £50 towards your airfare for this Autumn's Half Term week from the 22nd to 29th October 2011 holiday in Valencia, and better still you don't need to be a teacher to qualify. Places are limited.

Which? Travel

We are proud to have been mentioned in the latest issue of Which? Travel magazine in the Walking Holiday section – “Walks in Spain a small, private company born out of it’s owner’s genuine love of walking and travel” and listed as one of their walking holiday companies. Many thanks to our past guests who strongly recommended Walks in Spain and completed the Which? Questionnaire.

Best of Andalucia October 2011

We have just 2 rooms left for our Andalucian holiday from the 8th to 15th October 2011. Here is a comment from this Spring’s Andalucian holiday;

"After three great holidays with Walks in Spain we thought you couldn't get any better, but you did! Thank you again for a great week. The accommodation was excellent as were all the restaurants and food. The walks you found us were all great and each one different, although Monday's was probably the best we have ever walked with Walks in Spain. You have obviously put a great deal of time into organising these Andalucian holidays and changing things from last year where they did not quite reach your high standards. Thank you, it really was a wonderful holiday."
